Famous 'Nudes' Photographer Gives Big

NEW YORK October 21, 2009 -- Opera Singers Initiatives (OSI) is pleased to announce a special partnership with critically acclaimed photographer Robert Farber. In an effort to support OSI's mission and services, Mr. Farber will donate 20% of the proceeds from the sale of his works to the organization until December 31, 2009.

The recipient of numerous awards – including the Art Director's award and the ASP International Award – Mr. Farber is considered a major influence in contemporary photography. Along with his works being exhibited and enjoyed throughout the United States and abroad, he has successfully published eleven books. One such celebrated publication, "Farber Nudes," was included in the Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis estate collection.

"I support the passion and creative drive of young artists in general, and OSI focuses on such a beautiful art form," Mr. Farber said, praising the efforts of Opera Singers Initiative.

"OSI is extremely grateful to Robert for his generous contribution," said Anna Lenhardt, Founder of Opera Singers Initiative. "We appreciate his support and friendship."

Mr. Farber's gallery in New York is available only for private viewing. Fans and enthusiasts of art and photography are encouraged to mention "Opera Singers Initiative" when requesting to see his works. To make an appointment, call (212) 535-2555 or email Robert@farber.com. For more information on Mr. Farber and his works, please visit www.farber.com.
