

OPERA SINGERS INITIATIVE

March 19, 2009 - Ordinary is boring. Opera Singers Initiative in collaboration with Curious Frog Theatre Company presents the Spring Salon Preview — an evening of dance, music, theatre (a sneak peek just for you). Not only will you be the first to see these new pieces, but if you're really nice to us, we'll let you mingle with the actors, Curious Frog company, the folks at Opera Singer Initiative, and a slew of emerging artists. (Actually, you could be rowdy and inappropriate and we'd probably still let you mingle.)

Proceeds will support our fall Young Opera Performance for OSI and the spring production of True West for CFT. Everybody loves a party. We hear you. The Spring Preview wouldn't be much of a shindig without a little food and drink. Not to worry. Curious Frog and OSI know how to make merry. Just ask anybody who came to our CFT benefit for Much Ado About Nothing last fall, where between songs; musician Mark Pires did impressions of Christopher Walken playing Hamlet or our Young Opera Benefit for OSI of featured fun on WNET. Yep. The wine was that good. Need we say more? Come join us in March. See a fantastic play, make a networking connection or two, and support a wonderful cause. We can't wait to see you there.

About NY Studio Gallery

NY Studio Gallery combines exhibition and workspace to create an atmosphere of interaction, collaboration and integration of media, styles and artistic genres for US and international artists. (visit the NYSG site)